

I want to add my voice to those who oppose further consolidation in our broadcast media. It has already become difficult to find information, especially pertaining to governmental issues, which is not biased, deliberately obscured, or incomplete. To relax ownership rules further would damage our democracy which depends on an informed citizenry. My thanks to Cmsrs. Copps and Adelstein for refusing to surrender to what I can only imagine is furious pressure from a variety of sources.